Dear Investor,

This one is the 20th edition of the auction calendar of Italian government bonds. After many innovations made in the 2012 edition, graphical layout and general framework have been substantially confirmed, except for a slight change: the time interval between announcement and auction dates has been standardized – two business days - for each category of securities.

This year, each month shows the imagine of a commemorative coin minted by the Italian Republic's Mint, with a twofold main theme: Italian arts, that remind the rich cultural heritage accumulated over the centuries, and Italian institutions, that obviously have a shorter history, yet remarkable. Then, in each quarter, after two months dedicated to the Italian arts, the third month reproduces a commemorative coin concerning an event or a personality important in the history of the Italian institutions. It is not by chance that, for December, the choice has fallen on Alcide De Gasperi (the first Prime Minister of the Italian Republic) and his commitment to build the Europe's future.

Let me remind you that days marked in red are TARGET holidays, while a paler colour distinguishes national holidays, where auctions are regularly settled, whereas they are not held.

All information on Italian Treasury's issuance policy, including the Quarterly Issuance Programme which details bond issuances for the coming quarter, are updated in real time on the web site www.publicdebt.it.

2012 has been a challenging year, but the Treasury issuance policy, based on the transparency and regularity of the supply, has been awarded by the market. Hoping that this calendar may be useful to your activity in 2013 as well, I give you my best wishes for a year full of satisfaction.
